Yes, we are finally under a label!

For the last 10 years we have been an independent band and we survived only thanks to our amazing fans. We are forever thankful to you all for your support. We are very excited for this new adventure and we know that this new support will mean more shows, more music and more Infected Rain.

We proudly present to you, our new music video for the song Passerby from our upcoming record. This is our first release with Napalm Records!”
